OLD DOMINION TABLE SAUCE, CARD. The proprietor of this Sauce, on bringing it into the market, would explain that he has not confined himself, in its preparation, to an antiquated Vinginian recipe, but that he has, on the contrary, endeavored to improve upon the original, and that in so doing he has aimed not so much to imitate othe makes of sauce as to excel them. That he has succeed in this he has assurance of many competent judges; and he can refer with satisfaction to the qualities of proper body, fine bright color, appetizing odor, and superior flavor which he has succeeded in attaining to in the preparation of the "Old Dominion Sauce," and also to the fact that all of its ingredients are pure and wholesome.

The favorable judgment pronounced upon this Sauce by the preprietors of many of the leading hotels and restaurants of this city, who have been for some time supplied with it, encourages its proprietor to bring it more prominently before the public, trusting that its merits will thereby become more speedily known, and insure for it that wide demand which he has now prepared himself to supply. The price of the "Old Dominion Table Sauce" is as reasonable as the price of any Sauce in the market, and it is warranted to give general satisfaction.

All orders from hotels, restaurants, sauce dealers, and grocers will be promptly filled by the manufacturer and "BELSHAZZAR'S FEAST." John Dainty, No. 31 South Sixth street, has just published an engraving on steel, by A. B. Walter, of John Martin's famous picture of "Bel shazzar's Feast." Martin was a man of great and peculiar genius, and his illustrations of some of the most remarkable scenes in the Scripture narrative have never been surpassed in sublimity by the efforts of any artists before or since. In his own peculiar line Martin was simply inimitable, and his "Belshazzar's Feast" is un-versally conceded to be his masterpiece. This is a most elaborate work that almost builtes description, and it is enough to say that it realizes in a remarkable degree the wenderful sublimity of the scene. Martin was between two and three years engraving the original, and when it was exhibited for the first time in London, in 1825, it created an immense sessation and gained for the artist a pressium of £260 from the British Institution of Art. This copy by Mr. Walter is the first that has ever been made, and it is sufficient praise to say that it is a faithful reproduction of the original, a fine proof copy of which was presented to the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts by Joseph Bonaparte. From this print Mr. Walter's ongraving has been made. The size of the engraving is Id by 24 inches, and the prices are: for Proofs before Letter. $5'00; India Proofs, $6'00; Plain Proofs, $5'00; Plain Prints. $4'00. Copies will be sent by mail at the publishers risk on receipt of price.

STIMULANTS FOR THE DISPENSARY.—The great want in even well-regulated dispensaries has usually been produced by the inability of apothecaries and physicians to obtain diffusive stimulants that were free from noxious, not to say poisonous, substances. The druggists have not generally kept any better whisky than is found in those places which thrive on the exclusive sale of intexicating beverages. On these accounts it must be a source of satisfaction, as well as of business pleasure, to the Messrs. T. J. Martin & Co. (doing business at No. 150 N. Front street, in this city) to find our leading analytical and "consulting chemists" volunteering testimony as to the pure character and medical excellence of their widely-used "Keystone Pure Wheat Whisky." This whicky is now in general recommendation with our leading physicians. See
